Catching them before they fall

STANFORD TRAUMA CENTER PROGRAM AIMS TO PREVENT INJURIES FROM FALLS

By Sue Dremann

It's happened again. Another senior has arrived at Stanford's Trauma Center with a head injury. Blood is everywhere.

The patient caught his foot on the edge of the carpet and crashed head-first into the dining-room table. He may be lucky, requiring only several stitches and bed rest, but for other patients, such a fall can precipitate the end of independence: a broken hip, brain injury or a fractured spine.

To prevent such tragedies, Stanford Trauma Center at Stanford University Medical Center created "Farewell to Falls," a free assessment and agility-training program for older adults.

The growing numbers of injured prompted the course. More than one million older adults in California fall each year, with 200,000 of those falls resulting in injury; and 188 people ages 55 and older are hospitalized every day from slips, trips and falls, according to the program's Web site.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates older adults who have fallen or who frequently stumble are two to three times more likely to fall within the next year.

Of the 600 emergency-room cases at Stanford annually, 150 will be trauma related. Nearly half of those cases will require hospitalization, according to Ellen Corman, injury prevention coordinator for the trauma service.

The kinds of injuries Stanford staff treat range from lacerations and head injuries to broken bones, including wrists and hips.

"The most serious are hip fractures, which can cause the greatest loss of independence. The number of people with a broken hip who can't return home is just huge," Corman said.

Most falls can be prevented by improved balance, flexibility and strength training, medication review and simple home modifications, she said.

Adults who feel dizzy or weak should see a doctor and have blood pressure and medications checked. Medications play a large part in facilitating falls. Many seniors take as many as eight to 12 medications, some with similar side effects that can compound, she said.

"Farewell to Falls" accepts patients who have had a previous fall. Participants must live in San Mateo or Santa Clara counties and must live independently or with a spouse. They must be ambulatory and cannot have severe dementia, Corman added.

Occupational therapist Marla Mather recently visited Audrey Avis Aasen-Hull and James Byrne Hull to assess risk factors in their home. She taught the couple strength-training exercises, such as the Sit and Be Fit program, which helps seniors to heal and gain strength and flexibility while sitting in a chair or using the chair as an exercise tool. Such strength training will help the couple to have the strength to stay upright or, after a fall, to get up off the ground.

After a video and two sessions with the couple, staff will follow up with a phone call every two to three weeks for a year.

"As you get older, you become a victim of your own weaknesses, so to speak," said 90-year-old Avis, who still plays violin in a string quartet. "I've fallen so many times I can't keep count — at least 50 times."

Avis said no cause has been determined for her falls, but she often finds herself tripping on the edge of a rug or having one slip out from under her. She has hurt herself, but so far hasn't broken anything.

TIPS FOR AVOIDING FALLS

Stanford Trauma Center offers many tips to avoid falls on its Web site, including home safety tips. Below are some highlights:

Avoid dizziness or weakness

- Have blood pressure and medications checked by a physician
- Begin an activity program
- Rise slowly after sitting or lying down

Avoid tripping and slipping

- Remove obstacles with lips or high edges, such as throw rugs
- Pick up clutter from the floor and remove electrical cords
- Don't lean on towel bars or furniture for support
- Use handrails on stairs
- Wear non-slip shoes
- Install non-slip surfaces in showers and tubs
- Have uneven surfaces on patios and other areas repaired
- Improve lighting throughout the house and use nightlights
- Have vision checked regularly

Improve balance

- Carry small loads
- Rearrange cabinets and closets so that items are within easy reach

Other information

- Subscribe to Lifeline or another service that will bring help if you can't get up
- Keep emergency numbers near each phone
- Consider wearing hip protectors if you have osteoporosis or have had multiple falls

Avis' medical history was taken by program staff and recommendations were made to her physician. Hand rails for the shower and in and out of entrances were recommended, along with lowering her bed, she said.

She and her husband, Byrne, have found the rails and exercises very helpful, she said.

Many programs are available to help older adults avoid that first fall. The YMCA and Avenidas offer classes geared toward strengthening and balance for the older adult.

Avenidas hosts 12 fitness classes, and all have components of strength, flexibility and balance, said Judith Taksa Webb, manager of education and leisure.

"Farewell to Falls" offers many helpful tips on the Stanford Hospital Web site at www.stanfordhospital.com/clinicsmed-Services/medicalServices/emergency/fall-Prevention. ■ HEALTH BRIEFS

EL CAMINO NAMED DISTINGUISHED HOSPITAL

El Camino Hospital has been named one of the nation's top hospitals for the third year in a row, and has received the 2007 Distinguished Hospital Award for Clinical Excellence from HealthGrades, a leading health care ratings company.

El Camino was the only Northern California hospital to receive the designation for three consecutive years. The hospital has also received HealthGrades' Specialty Excellence Awards in stroke care, pulmonary care and women's health services.

HealthGrades awarded the recognition after completing an annual study of quality at the nation's 4,971 non-federal hospitals. Hospitals that ranked in the top five percent — a total of 266 nationwide and 26 in California — received the award.

The study found that in addition to outperforming the others across the procedures and diagnoses studied, distinguished hospitals had, on average, 28 percent lower mortality rates and 5 percent lower major complication rates.

MEDICARE OFFERS ANEURYSM SCREENINGS

Starting this month, certain newly qualified Medicare patients are able to receive screenings for abdominal aortic aneurysms as part of their standard Medicare check-ups.

Abdominal aortic aneurysm, or "AAAs," is a potentially deadly vascular condition that often goes undiagnosed. About 200,000 people in the U.S. are diagnosed with abdominal aortic aneurysm each year, and about 15,000 of these patients have conditions that require treatment, according to the Society for Vascular Surgery. The aneurysms are most frequently seen in people over 50, and tend to afflict men more than women.

The new coverage provides for a one-time ultrasound screening for men age 65 and over who have smoked more than 100 cigarettes in their lives, plus women with a family history of abdominal aortic aneurysms.

Camino Medical Group is one of the very few medical facilities with a full focus on AAA treatments. For more information on CMG's services, visit www.caminomedicalgroup.com.

WOMEN'S WARRIOR.

LEADING THE FIGHT AGAINST HEART DISEASE FOR WOMEN.

Heart disease is the number one killer of women in the US. It often presents different symptoms in women than in men, so life-threatening warning signs can be missed. Fortunately, determined cardiologists like El Camino Hospital's Dr. Cate Collings think beyond standard diagnostics, listening closer and looking deeper into potential red flags. If there is a problem, we're the only South Bay hospital that offers a truly comprehensive cardiac program from prevention to treatment to rehab. It's another example of how we always have your best interests at heart.

Get heart smart for Valentine's Day

By Dr. Jane Lombard

Q. When my chest hurts during vigorous exercise, is it a heart attack warning?

A. Heart muscle pain, called "angina," is likely to be the first warning of blocked coronary arteries, the most common cause of heart attacks. It's your heart's way of complaining that it isn't getting enough oxygen because of diminished blood supply. One in every four heart attacks produces mild symptoms that the person doesn't associate with a heart problem.

Dr. Jane Lombard

If you feel pressing pain or heaviness in your chest, seek medical attention promptly. There is a high probability that pain of this type is angina. Even if the pain subsides, the artery blockages that caused the symptoms are still present and could grow progressively worse. The absence of pain doesn't mean an absence of damage.

Don't ignore this sort of pain. It may be the only warning you get of a potential heart attack. Consult a cardiologist.

Q. What causes heart problems in babies?

A. Congenital heart defect is the most common type of major birth defect, responsible for more infant deaths than any other birth defect. Structural defects can occur during the early development of a baby's heart. Defects in the walls or valves of the heart, and the arteries and veins near the heart, can disrupt the normal flow of blood through the heart.

Some heart defects heal over time, while others will require treatment. Congenital heart defect may be present at birth without obvious symptoms. Depending on the condition, the defects may not cause problems for many years — or ever — and the patient will have a normal life span enjoying normal physical activity.

Heredity plays a role, and some prescription and over-the-counter medications and street drugs used during pregnancy can increase the risk of heart defects. Expectant mothers should receive good prenatal care and discuss any incidences of heart disease in their family with their obstetrician.

Q. How do stents work?

A. Arteries can become narrowed or blocked by deposits called plaque, which is made up of fat and cholesterol that builds up on the inside of the artery walls.

A stent is surgically inserted to open the artery. For the vast majority of patients, this procedure greatly improves blood flow through the coronary arteries and the heart and can even eliminate the need for coronary artery bypass surgery. Stents can give relief from chest pain and improve a patient's physical strength.

This procedure treats the condition, but it's not a cure. Re-narrowing may occur, possibly requiring another procedure. Patients should diet, exercise, stop smoking (if you smoke), and reduce stress to help lower chances of re-narrowing.

Q. I've read that heart disease is more common in some races. Why is that?

A. Rates of coronary heart disease are roughly four times higher in people born in the Indian sub-continent countries of India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Nepal ("South Asians") than their Caucasian counterparts. They also tend to develop heart disease at a younger age (before 40 in men). Numerous studies are underway to shed light on this community's greater susceptibility, but the known factors are high cholesterol, diabetes and lack of aerobic exercise.

If you are South Asian and have high blood pressure, diabetes, an abnormal cholesterol profile, or a family history of these conditions, heart disease, or stroke, then you may be at risk and should see a cardiologist for assessment.

Others who are at increased risk of heart disease are smokers, diabetics, obese and sedentary people, African American and Hispanic American/Latina women, and people with high blood pressure or high cholesterol. ▣

Notice of Governing Board Vacancy and

Intent to Fill the Vacancy with a Provisional Appointment

The Santa Clara County Board of Education, pursuant to Education Code sections 5090-5093, will make a provisional appointment to fill a vacancy from Board Trustee Area 1. The provisional appointee will serve until the term of office of the vacant seat expires in November 2008.

The County Board of Education invites any eligible person who would like to be considered as a candidate for appointment to submit an application. Applicants must be registered voters and must reside within Board Trustee Area 1, which includes the Palo Alto Unified, Sunnyvale, Mountain View-Whisman school districts and the corresponding portions of Fremont Union and Mountain View-Los Altos Union High school districts. The candidate selected cannot be employed by the Santa Clara County Office of Education (SCCOE) or any school district while serving on the Board.

The Board sets the policies that guide SCCOE and establishes its operating budget. In addition, the Board serves as an appeals board for such actions as interdistrict attendance requests, student expulsions and charter school petitions.

The Board meets in public session on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 5:00 p.m. at SCCOE, 1290 Ridder Park Drive, San Jose.

Interested individuals should submit a letter that includes interests and qualifications for the position. Include a minimum of three references and a resume. All materials must be received by 5:00 p.m., March 5, 2007. Submit these materials to Dr. Colleen Wilcox, Santa Clara County Superintendent of Schools, 1290 Ridder Park Drive, San Jose, CA 95131-2304 or fax to (408) 453-6601.

Selected candidates will be asked written questions and will be interviewed at a public meeting of the Board. It is anticipated that the Board will take action of the appointment in April.

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of PRISCILLA MAY ROBERTO, also known as PRISCILLA ROBERTO, aka PRISCILLA M. ROBERTO, aka P. M. ROBERTO.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by: EULIHEA ANTOINETTE WALKER in the Superior Court of California, County of SANTA CLARA.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that EULIHEA ANTOINETTE WALKER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on February 22, 2007 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 15 of the Superior Court of California, Santa Clara County, located at 191 N. First St., San Jose, CA, 95113.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
